Third parties use many different types of credit scores and are likely to use a different type of credit score to assess your creditworthiness.

When our members evaluate the scope of protection offered by LifeLock, it’s easy to appreciate the value. Members have exclusive protection services including proprietary identity monitoring† with technology that scans hundreds of millions of transactions per second looking for different threats that could lead to identity theft.

Plus, if you have questions, LifeLock’s Identity Protection Agents are ready to help answer questions 24/7. And if a member’s identity is ever compromised, a dedicated U.S.-based Identity Restoration Specialist will take charge and help fix the problem.
